

On Saturday, February 27
you can

"Meet the World in Anchorage"

Visit 30+ "destination booths" throughout the Anchorage Museum at Rasmuson Center illustrating traditional cultures of Anchorage's diverse population.

A "passport" explaining beliefs and sensitivities of each culture will help you learn more about your neighbors and co-workers.

Ethnic dancing, drumming, bright costumes, traditional music and activities will entertain you throughout the day.

"Meet the World" is part of the Bridge Builders of Anchorage campaign to build a community of friends from all cultures and create "the first city without prejudice."

To learn more, please contact: Bridge Builders of Anchorage • www.bridgebuildersak.org, 277-1882

Design by Dennis Smith Advertising • Photography by Carl Johnson

This fun family event is FREE thanks to Anchorage Museum at Rasmuson Center

Free Admission!

February 27, 2010

11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The Anchorage Museum at Rasmuson Center

121 West 7th Avenue

We thank our partners:

Alaska AFL-CIO and Census 2010.

This year our event is dedicated to Haitian earthquake relief.

